

KEEPING A SAFE DISTANCE

Keeping a safe distance helps minimize the risk of COVID-19 transmission.

People who have sustained contact within 6 feet are most at risk of transmission.

COVID is primarily spread through respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes.

